

European Appliance Elements from Grimwood

Each month Grimwood adds new designs to the range of Australian designed and made replacement elements, mostly at the request of importers of these European appliances. Each month Grimwood updates their on line catalogue to ensure customers can find the latest products.

The importers come to Grimwood for these elements for two key reasons:

Firstly, they need a design that will last in Australia's peculiar conditions of voltage (and variations) above those originally designed for in Europe.

Secondly, they need short lead times and national availability to satisfy their customers.

Grimwood is the only local manufacturer servicing this market with locally designed and made elements. Beware of Chinese product being sold under new and old, established brand names that are not what they appear to be (other than cheap). In some cases, you might even find Chinese products branded with a local established brand, but sold at Australian made prices!

Support a local Australian owned manufacturer who is committed to providing you with products you can trust and rely on, and committed to keeping jobs in Australia. Buy Grimwood!
